JOHN WILLIAMS DEAD

Emory Camp's Name Certified To Ballot

Our Town

By J. B. White

Tom Anglin is a free man. A jury in district court here Wednesday convicted him for the murder of his brother, Lee, but gave him a suspended sentence.

For the second time a jury in Milam county has given a suspended sentence for murder to a convicted person of mature years. Anglin is 71. He shot his brother Lee two months ago. They lived in the Friendship community. They quarreled at supper time. The aged mother was holding the gun barrel and pleading with Tom not to kill Lee. Both were aged men. Tom poked the gun barrel out the door and shot Lee in the belly. He died on the ground.

After Tom shot Lee down he put a pistol in his hands so it would look like Lee had attempted to shoot. His mother testified as much, "This will clear me," Tom said and his mother went on to say she took the gun out of her dead boy's hand despite Tom's warning that she leave it there. "Tom told me to leave the gun in Lee's hand, but I wouldn't do it," said his aged Ma.

Pale from the strain and dazed by the spectacle Tom Anglin rose from his seat as Penn Wolf, district clerk, read the verdict. It was the first time Tom Anglin had committed murder so the jury let him off with a suspended sentence. He rose from his seat as the jury filed from the box. He attempted to shake hands but none paid him any attention. He turned around and placed his hands on the lawyer's table and was walking away when Judge Watson, his attorney, told him to remain in the court room. The Judge then sat down by his client.

Tom Anglin's aged mother won't live with him any more. She testified in court she could not bear to be around him. They live on a forty-acre farm. The aged brothers and their nephew, Ollis Andrews, 18, tilled the soil. Next spring when the larks fly over the field, Ollis and his aged grandma will be there alone. Lee is dead and Tom has no home. They won't live with him.

Tom Anglin came back to Lee's place about two years ago broke and ill in health. Lee took care of him. Now Lee's dead and won't be able to help Tom and his Ma any more, but Tom's free. It was his first crime, they said.

The brothers quarreled when Lee Anglin took up for Ollis, who was displeased about how some eggs had been cooked for supper. Lee, who owns the farm asked them not to quarrel. Tom fired up and said "You are taking up for him," meaning Andrews. Lee told Tom it was his place and so Tom got plenty mad and went after a shot gun. His Ma told Lee and Ollis to run. They did but Lee came back and peeped in the house where the aged mother was pleading with Tom. As soon as Tom saw Lee looking in the door he pointed the gun at him and fired.

Cain and Abel once quarreled over a sacrifice. Cain brought produce from his farm. Abel a keeper of sheep gave the firstlings of his flock. Cain was disappointed when his sacrifices gained no favor. He was mad. They met in the field and Cain slew his brother, Abel. Reproof was swift. Cain the elder of the two, became a vagabond and a wanderer of the waste land, a curse upon him: "And now art thou cursed from the earth which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand; when thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth." Cain said his punishment was too great to bear.

Tom Anglin must go his way. He killed his brother and his Ma won't let him live at home any more.

If Anglin had robbed a bank his punishment might have been sure and swift. As it is he only killed his brother.

MORRISON WILL QUIT AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

W. A. (Bill) Morrison will quit the office of District Attorney shortly after November and return to the office of City Attorney which he recently resigned to accept appointment as District Attorney.

Mayor Chas. C. Smith has held up acceptance of Morrison's resignation pending the outcome of the campaign which resulted in defeat by Morrison by Executive Committeemen.

Mr. Morrison said Thursday that he would hold the office of District Attorney until the end of the present term of court so that the interests of the state would not be jeopardized. Along the first part of November he will send in his resignation to the governor.

Mr. Morrison had signed and pledged support of 34 members of the Committee to support him for nomination. When the vote came the influence of Camp's support had won them away from Morrison.

Mr. Morrison accepts the defeat as becomes both a gentleman and sportsmanship. He accepted the appointment of the governor only after he had been assured of the nomination by Committeemen who ditched him. Some of them stayed away from the meeting and gave proxies.

'VERGIE WINTERS' TO FEATURE ANN HARDING HERE OCT. 7 AND 8

Louis Bromfield's arresting romance of the American small town comes into its own as a screen drama in "The Life of Virgie Winters," with the seething intimacy of the town transcribed into a thing of graphic personal interest to every beholder. The picture comes to the Cameron Theatre Sunday October 8th.

The story is one of a small town milliner, and her poignant romance with the community's "favorite

YOEMEN FACE BIG TESTS WITH THRALL

Cameron was agog with excitement to-day on the eve of the first conference game with Thrall at the electric field Friday night. The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

Coach Wood was making a serious effort to whip his 1934 squad into shape for the game. Admittedly the hardest contest thus far the Yoemen were gauging their efforts accordingly. Rockdale plays Taylor Friday night at Rockdale to inaugurate the conference season there.

Yoemen ran away with West last Friday night. The score was 20 to 0 in favor of Cameron.

Confusion resulted when players changed sweaters and the programs distributed did not aid spectators in identifying the men. Cyrus cottle, president of the Council, said that the men would wear their right sweaters Friday night and the numbers will conform to the programs.

Exceptional patronage has been given the games. A big crowd is expected Friday night when the first conference game of the season is to be played.

GETS COMMITTEE'S INDORSEMENT HERE

In a proceeding that was amazing as well as extraordinary the Democratic Executive Committee on Friday afternoon certified the name of Emory B. Camp of Rockdale as nominee for Criminal District Attorney.

W. A. (Bill) Morrison, also an applicant for the favor of the Committee was virtually ruled "out of order" by Chairman Judd G. Davis who supported Camp for the nomination.

The defeat of Morrison came on a motion of G. C. McCall of Yarrellton, seconded by C. M. Pierce of Hanover that proxies be not allowed a vote in the proceedings of the Committee. Chairman Davis declined to put the motion and ruled it out of order. The vote then was taken and Camp won the Committee's favor by a vote of 30 to 17.

E. A. Camp, attorney of Rockdale and a member of the committee, who led the campaign for his son, Emory, declined a place on the committee to count the ballots.

Morrison Wins In First Case Tried As Dist. Attorney

W. A. (Bill) Morrison, who has been forced to retire from the office of district attorney to which he was appointed last week by Governor Ferguson, because the Executive Committee certified the name of another, was successful in the trial of his first case.

He secured a conviction in the trial of Tom Anglin for killing his brother, Lee Anglin. Milam county juries have inaugurated new precedents on the suspended sentence law. This jury gave Anglin a five year suspended sentence.

It was Mr. Morrison's first case. He will resign the office after the present term of court.

KILLED BY CHARGE FROM SHOTGUN

John Williams, 42, was instantly killed at 10 o'clock this morning in a wooded section of bottom land on the S. H. McClaren farm north of Marlow on Little River.

A charge from a shotgun struck him in the face and death was instantaneous.

He was in a tree some 25 feet above the ground looking for squirrels. Fred Jackson was standing on the ground beneath the tree with a gun in his hand looking up at John. The gun was accidentally discharged, the full load of shot striking Williams in the face. He was astride a large limb and his body fell limp against the tree and remained there until removed by ambulance attendants from the Coleman Funeral home called to the scene.

Ropes were placed about the body and it was lowered to the ground.

Jackson and Williams had gone squirrel hunting in the bottom this morning. Jackson was completely overcome by the import of the accident and was unable to talk at length about the tragedy.

Justice Gus Evans rendered a verdict of accidental death after reviewing the body at the morgue.

Both Jackson and Williams are with the Cameron Ice & Cold Storage Company, the former having been with the firm for a number of years. Mr. Jackson is an Alderman in the city government.

No plans have as yet been made for the funeral, but it was believed it would be held to-morrow.

Whereabouts of Graduate Here 18 Years ago Sought In Estate Settlement in Kentucky

Settlement of an estate in Kentucky awaits communication from a former graduate of Cameron high schools whose whereabouts are unknown.

The Herald is in receipt of a request from J. K. Brown of Fort Worth to lend effort to find the former graduate whose name was Miss Bennie Novilla Brown.

Miss Brown was educated in the Cameron schools and her last known address, says Mr. Brown, was box 283, Cameron, Texas and that was at the time of her graduation some 18 years ago. If these dates are correct she was a graduate of the class of 1916.

The father of Miss Brown was Joseph Benjamin Brown. He died in 1898 shortly after the birth of the daughter now sought. The mother of the graduate, according to Mr. Brown, was later married to a Mr. Gilliland.

"It is necessary to locate Bennie Novilla to settle an estate of her great uncle who died in Kentucky this year," writes Mr. Brown from Fort Worth.

The missing heir should at once communicate with J. K. Brown, box 67, Sylvania Station, Fort Worth or Mr. J. Ray Graham, administrator of the estate at Fulton, Kentucky.

Last Sunday evening at St. Michael's church in Burlington in an impressive ceremony the Confraternity of the Rosary was established. The Rosary is one of the oldest Confraternities in the Catholic church.

Rev. J. T. Geiser, pastor of Sacred Heart Church in Lott, gave the sermon on "The Excellency of the Rosary," and Father O'Sullivan, pastor at St. Michael's read the formula of erection. About 250 members were present for the ceremony.

Rosary Sunday is the first Sunday in October and was instituted by Gregory XIII. The following extract from the sermon of Father Geiser bearing upon the history of the Rosary will be of interest:

At a place in France called Albi, there arose a large band of heretics, who taught such revolting doctrine, encouraged such blasphemies and caused such material and moral distress amongst the faithful, that they had corrupted the greater part of

Reading Fun In Store For Boys

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeing a way to reduce the cost of the AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith Odgen Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade thru THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide-rack, the red-and-gold collie, Bonehead Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come.

William Heyliger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of the boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give the boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. The Long Arm of Justice.

Americans were thrilled to hear of the arrest of a man named Hauptmann in New York and to learn that the police had found over thirteen thousand dollars of the ransom money paid by Colonel Lindbergh in 1932 for the return of his kidnaped child. Thirty months had passed since the heart-breaking crime but at length justice seems about to reach those guilty of the death of the little boy.

During the many months which passed since the discovery of the dead body of the little boy every once in a while one of the bills turned up, distinguished by the number it bore. Most of these were small, in five and ten dollar denominations, but a few weeks ago one of the twenty dollar gold certificates was found in a bank, traced back to a shoe store, and officials still seeking to run down the guilty parties, realized that here was a possibility of finding who had some of this money. Notice was given to many store-keepers and business men in the neighborhood, to be on the watch, and make some record of any person passing such bills.

Finally, a second twenty-dollar gold certificate turned up in a bank. It had been deposited by the operator of a filling station, who had taken the precaution to copy the license number of the car of the man who had used it to pay for some supplies. The police in this way, by tracing the automobile license number, found the man, watched him, and subsequently arrested him. When they searched his garage $13,750 was found in two hiding places—all bills delivered by Dr. J. F. Condon to the supposed agent of the kidnapers.

There is a lot of consolation in the discovery of Hauptmann. From the standpoint of Dr. J. F. Condon it is reassuring. This man was the unfortunate go-between, who obtained the $50,000 from Col. Lindbergh, met a representative of the kidnapers in a graveyard, and delivered the money. Nothing followed, and afterwards the baby was found dead. In some quarters suspicion was directed against the doctor; in others he was pictured as a gullible fellow who had been taken by a bunch of crooks trying to capitalize on the crime, although the marks of identification handed Dr. Condon seemed to indicate that he was in touch with the real kidnapers. Through the years which followed Dr. Condon has given many hours to his individual efforts to discover and punish the group who so brutally swindled him.

Go To The Polls and Vote.

Every good citizen, who is concerned with good government, should go to the polls and exercise a conscientious judgment to select the best possible men for office.

Unfortunately, it is very hard for some men and women to know which way is better. Demagogues and political tricks often mislead and confuse those who do not have enough first-hand information to know.

The only advice we can give such citizens is to seek the judgment of some well informed, impartiial neighbor, and find out which candidates are the most likely, as far as can be known, to carry out the duties fairly, reasonably, and impartially.

Passion and prejudice should not control voting. The cause of good, clean government is not served by demagogues seeking to stir up emotions and ranting against indefinite evils, hoping that out of the confusion and excitement they can get the votes and occupy some offices.

The individual citizen, seeking to vote for the good of his or her state, oftentimes has a difficult problem. It should be faced honestly and solved rightly as far as possible. Let the welfare of the State, or County, be the prime factor in determining how to cast your ballot.

Answering the Kidnapers.

With the arrest of a man in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping the Department of Justice reports that of twenty-nine such cases that came within its jurisdiction all have been solved except one.

In these cases seventy-four persons have been convicted, thirteen await trial and three have committed suicide. Sentences aggregating 1,236 years have been imposed, including sixteen life terms and two death sentences.

A record of this kind is the best answer to the wave of kidnaping that followed the Lindbergh case. It will successfully answer any kind of crime wave that may engulf the people of this country.

Russia In the League.

Soviet Russia is now a member of the League of Nations.

Once it was said that Russia, Turkey, and the United States were the only three nations of any consequence which were outside.

Russia is in. Japan is now out. We have remained outside. The League founded largely by the efforts of Woodrow Wilson, is supported by nearly every civilized nation except the country of its founder.

We pretend that we want peace, and we do, but still we haven't been willing to join hands with other nations in creating an effective international organization.

Resolutions

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE MILAM COUNTY BAR:

Your Committee appointed to draft resolutions touching upon the death of our departed brother, Honorable S. M. Burns, which occurred on September 21st, 1934, respectfully submit the following:

Mr. Burns occupied a useful place in the affairs of the State, City and County, and was ever mindful of his obligations and responsibilities as a citizen.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED. That the officers and the members of the Milam County Bar extend heartfelt sympathy to the wife and family of Mr. Burns in this sad hour of bereavement, but bow with them to the mandate and decree of the Most High God who doeth all things well, and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the family and a copy be spread on the minutes of the District and County Court of Milam County.

Respectfully submitted,

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS FIRST MEETING HERE

The Senior Class of 1934-35, known as the most active class ever seen in the Yoe High School, is living up to its reputation.

Last year every enterprise carried on was successful under the leadership of the popular capable president, John S. Burns. It seems that in campaigns against upper and lower classmen last year, the peppy Juniors were the winners. (That, of course, was due to the clever politicians in the class!)

The only new work done by the class so far this year has been the sale of football stickers. This has been very successful.

On Tuesday, September 25, the first meeting of the renowned class of '35 was held. The main purpose of the meeting was the election of officers. The minutes read as follows:

The Senior Class met for its initian meeting, Tuesday afternoon, September 25. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Perrin who gave a short talk to the class. Nancy Newton, acting as temporary chairman, held the election for class president in which John S. Burns was elected.

Taking charge of the meeting the president then held the election for other class officers who were as follows:

Bill Gillis, vice president; Harold Jackson, secretary; Hillard Thomas, treasurer; Nancy Newton, reporter; and Hillard Thomas and Joy Lantrip, Yell Leaders. A committee composed of Jack Avriett, chairman, Caroline Porter, Alice Rylander, Ralph McLerran and Harold Jackson, was appointed to decide on class motto.

The treasurer reported a sale of stickers amounting to $7.34. Meeting closed with yell leaders leading yells for Senior Cass. About 80 Seniors attended the meeting.

In conclusion, we wish to say that we hope we may have the most successful year of our high school life, and to ask one and all to help us make the Senior Class of 1934-35 the best to ever leave the stately portals of old Yoe High.

Nancy Newton, Class Reporter.

Garner Has Visitors in Uvalde

A. L. Krenek, who lives on the W. H. Triggs farm near the mouth of Elm Creek found an unusual way to make money this year. He planted an acre of garlic and sold it for $72. He plans to plant two acres next year, 40 acres in corn and reduce the cotton acreage. He is opposed to the Bankhead Law because it operates against the small farmer. This year Mr. Krenek, if he sells all the cotton he produces will have to pay about $400 to the government. He will produce about 42 bales of cotton. The garlic crop was sold in Houston.

4-H Pantry Parade October 17th Will Show Advantages

A 4-H Pantry on parade may be seen at the home of Mrs. U. B. Satterwhite, Pantry Demonstrator for the Friendship Club. In providing for the family of four, a total of 607 containers have been added to the pantry.

Mrs. Satterwhite finds that a well organized pantry makes meal planning easy because the general division of food are made for the entire year; it shows at a glance the foods which are low in quality; shows whether food budget was really filled because the contents and budget cards are easily checked, and it shows which foods are popular and apetizing.

Open house will be held at the home of Mrs. Satterwhite October 17 for the purpose of visiting her pantry demonstration. Those interested are invited to attend this Achievement Day Program to others, some of whom were not members of the committee. Mr. Morrison did not have a proxy represented in the committee, all his votes coming from members present.

Edwin, pictured above, received a head injury in a game with Lorena, and died Saturday night in a Waco hospital without regaining consciousness. Valley Mills won the game, 19 to 0. CAMP

Mr. Camp's commanding majority is represented by both members present and proxies held by his supporters.

Motion Fundamental

It is regarded as fundamental that the question of proxies is properly to be determined by the Committee as a whole since that body has no superior, it was pointed out. The right to vote upon that or any other question rightly placed was urged by Morrison supporters but the Chairman ruled the motion out of order immediately after a Camp supporter made a substitute motion that proxies be allowed. The question then should have occured upon the substitute. On the question of whether proxies were to be allowed a vote, they could not be used, it was said. Whether Camp had a majority without the use of proxies was not regarded as important by those who sought a vote on the question. They hold that the motion was in order but no one had the presence of mind to appeal from the ruling of the chair.

The nomination of Mr. Camp whose name will go on the November ballot assures his election as Criminal District Attorney.

Election Assured

Mr. Morrison had accepted appointment to the office by Governor Ferguson only after he had secured the signed and promised support of 34 members of the Committee who said they would place his name on the ballot. Only 17 kept their pledge to support him, it was shown by the vote.

Mr. Morrison who resigned as City Attorney to accept this place will shortly tender his resignation to the Governor and return to his city office, it was announced. He had relied upon the pledge of the Committee members, otherwise he would not have accepted the appointment of the Governor, he declared.

Was Defeated

Mr. Camp is a graduate of the law school of the University of Texas and associated with his father in the practice of law at Rockdale. For the past two years he has been a member of the legislature from Milam county but was defeated by George Mayo Newton by a majority of 1278 votes. Mr. Camp, if named by the governor, would take office following Mr. Morrison's resignation in November.

VERGIE WINTERS

son." Ann Harding stars in the title role as the milliner, and John Boles is the male lead.

The small town life is visualized in the RKO-Radio Picture is said to be impressively convincing and to be produced with sympathetic understanding. Generally oerlooked as a cinema background in favor of New York and other metropolitan settings, the small town, on such occasions as it does reach the screen is generally caricatured.

Every effort was made to avoid any false note in "The Life of Virgie Winters." In physical details, and in the characters which populate it, the film is said to be true to local life and type. The entire story, which covers a period of twenty-two years, is sold against a background of neighbors, friends enemies and acquaintances. Rich and poor, respectable and otherwise, tolerant and bigoted, are all presented in their unvarnished ruggedness.

An actual town of the sort which is the locale of the famous Bromfield story was built to provide the color. Erected near Hollywood, with its business buildings centering about a typical central square, the town was modeled from data and photographs of actual Midwest communities. The town is first seen as in the closing days of 1910. As the story progresses, the physical changes in the little metropolis are apparent to the audience.

The love story is said to be strikingly unusual, intensely emotional and most sympathetic. It gives a reverse twist to the "eternal triangle" theme by presenting the woman who holds and clings to the love of another woman's husband as the prime heorine of the romance.

Although Vergie Winters' love is branded sinful by her neighbors, she dedicates her whole life to it, remaining serene in the face of malicious gossip and persecution with the knowledge that it is justifiable and unselfish. So great was her love, that she is steeled to give up claim to her own daughter, the child being adopted by its father and his legal wife.. Vergie sees this child grow to young womanhood under her yearning eyes daring not disclose herself because to do so would harm the ones she loves.

Joe Dohnalik, farmer residing on Route 3 out of Cameron will be a reader of The Herald in 1935, having enlisted among the growing family of readers this week.

ROSARY

the country. In this dark period of the middle age, all of Europe was in a turmoil. Sicily was deluged in blood. Germany was at war for the possession of Lombardy. Three men were claiming the crown of Henry VI of England. Philip, the King of France, was scandalizing the world with his shameful life. Spain was bleeding under the dominion of the Moorish rule and the Turks were striving to wipe out every trace of Christianity. Such was the condition of Europe when St. Domonic came upon the scene.

"Under incredible difficulties St. Domonic wandered through the provinces infected with this terrible heresy and everywhere zealously preached the word of God. But notwithstanding the sanctity of his life and some wonderful miracles, he met with no success. He, however, was greatly devoted to the Beloved Mother in Heaven, so on bended knees, he beseeched Heaven throug Her, to restore peace, to reconcile the heretics and convert pagans. Shortly after the Blessed Virgin appeared to him holding a Rosary in Her hand, this She gave to St. Domonic, explaining its use and the manner in which it was to be recited."

Circulating Library For Country Clubs

Plans are now under way for the establishment of a circulating library for the home demonstration clubs of the county, according to a report of Mrs. Kay Moore, Secretary of the County Home Demonstration Council on Wednesday, September 26.

The purpose of such a plan is to offer more cultural programs and training for the rural women. The selection of the books and plan of circulation will be made soon.

J. W. Wilkerson who lives on Route 1 out of Cameron is going to be a reader of the Herald in 1935. He says it is the best paper in Milam county. Mr. Wilkerson did not fare so well at farming this year, but hopes to improve his efforts soon. He is going to move out of the black land into the sand country near Milano. He is on old time resident of Milam county.
